

WK DICKSON COMMUNITY Heroes

Ebony Hagans

Ebony Hagans, in the Raleigh office, has tutored kids since her senior year of high school, and as soon as she went to college she became involved in a mentoring program similar to Big Brothers Big Sisters.

"After I graduated college, I wanted to continue mentoring and Big Brothers Big Sisters was a good fit for me," Ebony says.

Ebony started out in Pennsylvania with a 9-year old girl named Danielle, and she was her big sister for two and a half years. Together the two loved going to the movies and skating. When Ebony later moved to North Carolina she continued her involvement with the Big Brothers Big Sisters program and was matched with a 10-year old girl named Breasha for about three years.

"Breasha was adventurous and loved doing all kinds of things. Some of our favorite activities to do together were skating, bowling, shopping, and going for ice cream. In addition to the "fun stuff," we also worked on homework and school projects together. The picture above is Breasha and I at her 5th grade graduation," Ebony said.

In addition to her involvement with the Big Brothers Big Sisters Program, Ebony also has been tutoring with ACE (Academic Enrichment), a program offered through the church she attends. She has assisted the same student, Alexandria, for the last year and a half. They started out working on Algebra I together and now are working on Geometry and Algebra II.

Thank you Ebony for your commitment to mentoring; your dedication to these girls will be treasured for many years.

Is there someone you would like to see profiled? Email info@wkdickson.com