

WK DICKSON COMMUNITY Heroes

Guy Cooke

Earlier this spring, surveyors from across the nation hosted the National Society of Professional Surveyors (NSPS) Surveying USA events to kick off the start of National Surveyor's Week. Our very own Guy Cooke, Project Manager, PLS, was a volunteer for this event. The goal of NSPS Surveying USA is to give the public an opportunity to observe local surveyors in action and to learn more about one of the world's oldest professions.

During the event, advanced Global Positioning System (GPS) equipment was on display while simultaneously collecting data at sites throughout the country. Guy, at his location in Clayton, NC, was available to answer questions about the event and to discuss the role of surveyors in the community. He spoke to elementary, junior high and senior high school students introducing them to the surveying profession. Guy also performed staged demonstrations of new surveying technologies and had displays of ancient and modern surveying equipment.

Thank you Guy for promoting NSPS Surveying USA and for your commitment to the community; these events are excellent opportunities for expanding the public's knowledge of surveying and WK Dickson. We look forward to hearing of future National Surveyor Week events.

Is there someone you would like to see profiled? Email info@wkdickson.com